a cultural history of magic series an exploration of the history of magic and its place in societies in the western world and beyond over the last 2 500 years what role has magic played in society through the ages how has it been practiced and at times controlled how has magic been understood and represented and how has this understanding differed according to time and place in a work that spans 2 500 years these ambitious questions are addressed by 57 experts each contributing their overview of a theme applied to a period in history with the help of a broad range of case material they illustrate broad trends and nuances of the culture of magic across the world from antiquity to the present albeit with an emphasis on western traditions individual volume editors ensure the cohesion of the whole and to make it as easy as possible to use chapter titles are identical across each of the volumes this gives the choice of reading about a specific period in one of the volumes or following a theme across history by reading the relevant chapter in each of the six the six volumes cover 1 antiquity 500 bce to 800 ce 2 medieval age 800 to 1450 3 the renaissance 1450 to 1650 4 age of enlightenment 1650 to 1800 5 age of empire 1800 to 1920 6 modern age 1920 to the present themes and chapter titles are defining magic magic religion and belief practices and practitioners authorities and control geographies of magic magic and material culture magic and gender imagining magic

the postcolonial states of fiji papua new guinea and vanuatu operate today in a global arena in which human rights are widely accepted as ratifiers of un treaties such as the convention on the elimination of all forms of discrimination against women and the convention on the rights of the child these pacific island countries have committed to promoting women s and girls rights including the right to a life free of violence yet local national and regional gender values are not always consistent with the principles of gender equality and women s rights that undergird these globalising conventions this volume critically interrogates the relation between gender violence and human rights as these three countries and their communities and citizens engage with appropriate modify and at times resist human rights principles and their implications for gender violence grounded in extensive anthropological historical and legal research the volume should prove a crucial resource for the many scholars policymakers and activists who are concerned about the urgent and ubiquitous problem of gender violence in the western pacific this is an important and timely collection that is central to the major and contentious issues in the contemporary pacific of gender violence and human rights it builds upon existing literature but the contributors to this volume interrogate the connection between these two areas deeply and more critically this book should and must reach a broad audience jacqui leckie associate professor anthropology and archaeology university of otago the volume addresses the tensions between human and cultural individual and collective rights as played out in the domain of gender gender is a perfect lens for exploring these tensions because cultural rights are often claimed in defence of gender oppression and because women often have imposed upon them the burden of representing cultural traditions in attire comportment restraint or putatively cultural conservatism and melanesia is a perfect place to consider these gendered issues because of the long history of ethnocentric representations of the region because of the extent to which these are played out between states and local cultures and because of the efforts of the vibrant women s movements in the region to develop locally workable responses to the problems of gender violence in these communities christine dureau senior lecturer anthropology university of auckland
